Connect to the future Tsunagu Miraie

We would like to solve our social problems, enrich our lives and contribute to create a better society (Society 5.0) by selling the latest and high quality electric components and devices. Each of the components cannot bring out its full potential. Upon understanding this, we work on offering items which combines a various types of the components suitable for our customer's needs.

“Connected” creates new functions which help our society. Our activities realizing Society5.0 is connected with ones for SDGs. The components and devices provided by us are commercialized by our customers, and they make our lives better and more comfortable.

In addition, each member of Ohtori, Okamoto has been starting to think for his/herself and to take actions. What we can do is very limited. Even if it is the fact, we would like to “connect” our single activity together and become the first step towards SDGs.

Time never stops by 2030 as well as the earth does not wait.

We promise that we do what we can do now hand in hand with our members.
